

Position: Software Developer (new grad)

Job Description:

Scrapboy Digital Media Corporation (SDMC) is a pioneer in instant notification software for Social Networks such as orkut, MySpace and Facebook. The Scrapboy product is the essential tool for users of Social Networks designed to let you easily keep track of your rapidly expanding social life via your multiple Social Networking communities. Scrapboy is an easy to use instant messenger, notifying you instantly with changes in your or your friend's profiles. It is the must have add-on for those with a large networks of friends – Scrapboy helps you keep track of everyone's messages, pictures and passions. Stay up to date with Scrapboy. Stay connected with Scrapboy.

We are looking to recruit a dynamic, talented, hardworking and recently graduated software developer to join our expanding development team. As part of the SDMC team, you will be responsible for software design, development, unit testing, documentation and product stabilization.

Key Responsibilities:

- Architecting, implementing and documenting software.
- Writing test cases and performing unit tests.
- Debugging applications and fixing bugs.
- Analyzing and understanding user requirements written in UML Use Cases.

Desirable Skills and Experience:

- Bachelors' degree in Computer Science or Computer Engineering or related discipline.
- 1 to 2 years of work experience (either full-time, part-time or co-op) as part of a team involved in the complete software lifecycle.
- Development experience in Java, C++, Visual Studio.NET, C#.NET, ASP.NET, SQL, Java and HTML would be considered as a valuable asset
- Meticulous eye for detail.
- Experience in a busy environment with the ability to cope with competing priorities would be considered an asset.

Attributes:

- Strong interpersonal, communication, and organizational skills.
- Quick learning abilities with strong analytical and excellent troubleshooting skills.
- You have a strong desire to excel and you push your boundaries of speed and efficiency in order to develop highly functional applications, as you grow and acquire new skills.
- Must have good interpersonal skills, including: Teamwork, Respect, Courtesy, Tact and Discretion.
- Good sense of humour and desire to have fun at work.

Across the spectrum of software companies, Scrapboy Digital Media Corporation (www.scrapboy.com) stands above the rest, and so can you! We offer competitive salaries, generous stock options, comprehensive benefits, and an innovative, team-oriented environment.

Response Information:

Please send your resume by email to jobs@scrapboy.com with position code "SDMC02-106" referenced in subject line.